

Dear Editor,

Many thanks for the detailed comments regarding our paper titled ‘vivid: An R package for Variable Importance and Variable Interactions Displays for Machine Learning Models’. We have addressed all of the queries for the referees for whom you forwarded responses and have supplied a revised manuscript and a detailed response letter with point-by-point responses to the comments of the two reviewers. We have also provided a pdf version of our manuscript specifically for the reviewers with the changes highlighted in red text. In the reviewer’s pdf version, with highlighted text, some references are not formatted correctly. However, these are formatted correctly in the revised non-reviewer’s copy.

We hope that you now find the paper suitable for publication. If you have any further queries please do not hesitate to get in contact with me.

Yours sincerely,

Alan Inglis
